Both manors were held of the king in chief in fee-tail by service of a knight's fee by virtue of a fine levied in 16 Edward III. between Robert Achard and Agnes his wife, querents, and Master Walter de Stratton, parson of the church of Shalvingford, and Thomas de Annewyl, deforciant, concerning those manors (except the advowson of the church of Spersholte), whereby Robert recognized the premises to be the right of Walter and Thomas, who then granted the manor of Spersholte to Robert for life and the manor of Aldermanston to Robert and Agnes for their lives, with remainder in both cases to the aforesaid Peter Achard and Elizabeth his wife, and the heirs of their bodies, and failing such heirs to Peter de la Mare, knight, and Joan his wife, for their lives, with remainder to Thomas son of the said Peter de la Mare and the heirs of his body.

8. JOHN ALEYN.

Commission to John de Berland and Simon de Kegworth to enquire as to the lands of the said John Aleyn, the date of his death, the name and age of his heir, and the name of the person who has been in possession of his lands since his death and received the issues. 14 April, 35 Edward III.

Writ to the sheriff of Kent ordering him to summon a jury. 15 April, 35 Edward III.

Precept by the commissioners to the sheriff to summon the jury at Derteford on Wednesday after St. Mark. Westminster, Wednesday before St. George, 35 Edward III.

Fragment of jury panel.

KENT. Inq. taken before the commissioners at Derteford, Wednesday after St. Mark, 35 Edward III.

He held no lands &c. in Kent at the time of his death, but before his death he gave by charter all his lands &c. in Derteford, Stone and Wylmynton to William Claptus, John Byllok and John Whitlok, in fee, who after his death enfeoffed his sons John, Thomas, William and Edward thereof. William died a minor. John demised his share to John Costantyn, citizen of London, for a term of years, no division of the premises having been made between him and his brothers. John Costantyn thereupon seized the wardship of John, Thomas and Edward as next friend of the blood of Idonea, his wife, to whom no right could descend by inheritance, alleging that the tenements were gavelkind, whereas he could claim no right on this account because the premises did not descend by inheritance but by the feoffment.

Thomas, while under the age of 15 years, enfeoffed John Costantyn of his share, no division having been made, on condition that John should render to him yearly for life 10 marks and a gown, and make him his apprentice draper according to the custom of the city of London. John Costantyn never paid Thomas the said rent and would not make him his apprentice, but maliciously prosecuted him and his brothers John and Edward on a writ of trespass in the King's Bench, so that they were put in exigent in the city of London and outlawed in the husting there on Monday after the Conception of the Virgin Mary, 33 Edward III. This was to exclude them from any action against him concerning the premises. To avoid his malice the said John, Thomas and Edward left England.

John and Thomas are now dead and Edward survives.

William de Hatton, escheator, seized a third part of the premises into the king's hand by reason of the outlawry. Whether the king ought to answer for this part the jury know not.

The premises are held of divers lords, to wit, some of the earl of Pembroke, a minor in the king's wardship, and some of Thomas de Grandisson, knight. But whether the king or the said Thomas is the true chief lord the jurors know not, because the rent which the said Thomas holds in the aforesaid towns belonged in the time of king Edward the king's grandfather to the crown of England, and was given by that king to the ancestors of the said Thomas to be received from certain lands &c. in Derteford and Wylmyntone in exchange for lands &c. in Thamme and Idenne by Wynchelse. Others of the premises are held of the bishop of Rochester, but whether the king or the bishop is chief lord the jurors know not; and others of divers other lords by gavelkind services.

One Nicholas atte Welle, by pretext of a recognizance made to him by John Costantyn in the king's court, sued execution of the tene-ments aforesaid, by virtue of which execution the said Nicholas and John, his son, have been in possession of the premises since the aforesaid outlawry.

Stratford. The manor, with the advowson of the church, held of Sir William de Ufford, service not known.

He died on 13 October, 35 Edward III. John de Burghayssh his kinsman, aged 19 years and more, is his heir. William de Kerdeston, his son, had possession of the premises from the time of his death until 10 January last, when the escheator took them into the king's hand, as it was declared (constabat) by writ of the Exchequer that the deceased held of the king in chief in the counties of Lincoln and York.

Writ of certiorari super modo et causa capcionis to the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer as to why the third part of the manor of Stratford held by Hamo de Felton, knight, and Margaret his wife, as her dower, has been taken into the king's hand by them. 8 November, 41 Edward III.

Similar writ concerning the manors of William, son of William de Kerdeston, of Kerdeston, Claxton, Helgheton, Swanton Nowers, Riston, and Stratford, and his lands &c. in Helgeye, Southereye, Carleton, Bokenhamferye and Claxton in the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk; asking also why a previous mandate therein has not been obeyed. 15 November, 41 Edward III.

Certificate (undated) of the treasurer and barons. William de Kerdeston died on 14 October, 35 Edward III, and held of the king in chief the manor of Skendelby, co. Lincoln, by knight's service. This was taken into the king's hand immediately after his death, and on that pretext we have taken into the king's hand the manors of Kerdeston, Claxton and Helweton, which had not previously been seized. These manors the said William, with Margery his wife, held of the feoffment of Bartholomew Bateman and Master John de Brecham, clerk (whom the said William had previously enfeoffed thereof), to be held by the said William and Margery and the heirs male of their bodies, with remainders successively to Roger, son of the said William, and the heirs male of his body, William, brother of the said Roger, and the heirs male of his body, and the right heirs of William de Kerdeston. William de Kerdeston, Margery and Roger are dead without heirs male of their bodies, and William brother of Roger entered into the manors and held them, as was found by an inquisition taken before Roger de Wolfreton, escheator in Norfolk and Suffolk, and also by the admission of the said William brother of Roger in pleading before the treasurer and barons, and also by a charter shewn by him.

We have also taken the manor of Stratford, co. Suffolk, into the king's hand, because the same William de Kerdeston the father was seised of it in his demesne as of fee.

We have also taken the manor of Ryston into the king's hand out of the hands of William Clere, executor of the will of Robert Clere, to whom the deceased in his lifetime conveyed the same for a term of fourteen years, for a debt owed by the said Robert to the king, as we are assured by record.

As for the manor of Swanton Nowers and certain lands &c. in Suthereye and Helgey, co. Norfolk, and the manors of Sydestern and Neuton by Brecham and lands &c. in Claxton, Carleton and Bokenhamfery, co. Norfolk, and the manors of Henam and Bulcamp, co. Suffolk, they are not in the king's hand, but are delivered out of the king's hand to the aforesaid William de Kerdeston, Hamo de Felton and Margaret, his wife.

Copy of a grant by Bartholomew Bateman, knight, Robert Withfot, parson of a mediety of the church of Refham, and William, parson of the church of Helghton, to William de Kerdeston, knight, and Margery, his wife, of the manors of Kerdeston, Clakeston and Helghton, co. Norfolk, together with all the lands &c. in Refham, Salle, Dallyngge, Thimilthorp, Asshby, Carleton by Langgelee, Thurton, Langelee, South Walsham, Upton, Randeworde, Fisshlee, Apton, Thirston, Rokelound, Holviston and Surlyngham which the grantors had of the gift of the grantee William, to hold as in the above certificate. Witnesses : Robert de Morle, William de Calthorp, John de Hales, Walter Rose, Roger Bacoun, knights, Thomas Dages, Hugh Burglion, Thomas Withfot, John de Lympenowe and Walter Pascald. Clakes-ton, 8 February, 16 Edward III.

Writ to the escheator to enquire as to the lands and heir of the deceased, and who has been in possession of his lands since his death and received the issues. 4 December, 44 Edward III.

SUFFOLK. Inq. (indented) taken at Becles, Saturday after St Hilary, 44 Edward III.

He died on the eve of the Assumption, 35 Edward III. William de Kerdeston his son, aged 37 years and more, is his heir, and the king has been in possession of the premises since the death of the deceased and has received the issues, by what title the jurors know not.

NORFOLK. Inq. (indented) taken at Norwich, Friday after St. Hilary, 44 Edward III.

Ryston by Walcote. The manor, held of Thomas le Grey, knight, service not known.

Date of death as above. Heir, William de Kerdeston his son, aged 36 years and more.

The deceased demised the manor at farm to Robert Clere for 14 years from Wednesday before the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 28 Edward III, and by virtue of this demise William Clere, executor of the will of the said Robert, was in possession of it from the death of the deceased until Michaelmas, 40 Edward III, about which time it was taken into the king's hand, and the king has been in possession ever since, by what title the jurors know not.

Writ of certiorari super causa capcionis to the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer concerning the manor of Ryston, late of the deceased. 4 December, 44 Edward III.

(Endorsed) Enrolled in Hilary term in the 45th year, ro : 2.

Certificate of the treasurer and barons. It is found in the Memoranda of the king's 41st year, among the Recorda of Michaelmas term in a process touching William Clere and Walter Clere, that William Clere, son and heir of Robert Clere, in Michaelmas term at the end of the king's 40th year acknowledged (cognovit) that he was the executor of the will of the said Robert, and that the said Robert his father held the manor of Ryston, co. Norfolk, free of rent, by demise of one William de Kerdeston, knight, for a term of fourteen years, of which seven years were unexpired at the time of the death of the said Robert, which occurred on Wednesday before Whitsunday, 34 Edward III, and that he (William) had possession thereof from the time of the said Robert's death. And because he acknowledged that he had for seven years after the death of Robert been in possession of the manor, in which Robert had no estate except for a term of years, so that it ought to be considered (adjudicari) as a chattel and not as a fee or freehold (liberum tenementum), thereby acknowledging himself administrator (sic cognoscendo administrationem) of the goods and chattels late of the said Robert, it was awarded that the manor should be taken into the king's hand, and that answer should be made to the king yearly for the profits thereof during the aforesaid term in part payment of 1000 marks which the king recovered for the 1000 marks which Robert bequeathed and assigned to the king in repayment of the king's moneys which he received and converted to his own use when he had the guardianship of the temporalities of the bishopric of Norwich in Norfolk and Suffolk (which were in the king's hand by reason of the contempt &c. of William Bateman, late bishop), and also in repayment of the king's moneys received by him as collector and receiver of wools granted to the king in Norfolk and Suffolk. The sheriff was therefore directed to take the said manor out of the hand of the said William into the king's hand, and to be answerable for the issues.

It was also found in the same Memoranda of the king's 41st year, among the commissions of Trinity term, that the king by letters patent under the seal of the Exchequer dated 13 July, 41 Edward III, committed to Joan de Mohun the custody of the manor of Ryston, extended at 35*l.* yearly, to hold for so long as the manor should be in the king's hand at a yearly farm of 35*l.*

Writ of certiorari to the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer to examine the rolls &c. of the Exchequer and certify whether the manors of Stratford, co. Suffolk, and Ryston, co. Norfolk, are held of the king in chief or of others, and by what services. 22 April, 46 Edward III.

Certificate of the treasurer and barons. In the Book of Fees, which is kept in the Exchequer for evidence and not for record, it is found in Norfolk under the heading 'fees of Walter son of Robert' that Robert Baynard of Ryston holds a knight's fee and a half in Ryston of the said Walter, and that Fulk de Kercheston holds half a knight's fee in Ryston of the same. It is also found in the same book, in Suffolk under the heading 'fees of the honor of Relege,' that William de Stratford holds a knight's fee in Stratford of the same honor, and that Robert de Alneto holds half a knight's fee of the same honor. Moreover, it is found in the roll of particulars of the account of Nicholas de Castello and his fellows, collectors in the county of Norfolk of the aid of 40*s.* granted to the king in his 20th year, that they answer for 40*s.* for one knight's fee in Ryston held by Avelina de Burnel and Burga de Vallibus of the heirs of Fulk Banyard, and by him of the king, and formerly held by Peter de Huntyngfeld, William de Huntyngfeld and William de Vallibus, and for 20s. for half a knight's fee in Ryston held by Maud de Kerston of the heirs of Fulk Baynard, and by him of the king, and formerly held by William de Kerston. It is also found in the roll of particulars of the account of Henry de Elmham and his fellows, collectors of the aforesaid aid in the county of Suffolk, that they answer for 20s. for half a knight's fee in Stratforde held by Joan de Stratforde, Richard Chervill and John de Stratforde, and formerly held by the heirs of William de Stratforde and Adam Chervill of William Mouchensy. Nothing more concerning the tenure of these manors has been found.

Writ of certiorari to the escheator to enquire whether the manors of Ryston and Stratford, late of William de Kerdeston, are held of the king in chief or of others, and by what services. 30 April, 46 Edward III.

SUFFOLK. Inq. (indented) taken at Wodebrygge, Thursday after Ascension day, 46 Edward III.

The manor of Stratford is not held of the king in chief but of the prior of St. Mary, Theford, by service of half a knight's fee and 20s. yearly rent.

NORFOLK. Inq. (indented) taken at Riston, Monday after Ascension day, 46 Edward III.

The manor of Ryston is not held of the king in chief but was held of Thomas Grey, knight, as of his manor of Haddeston, by service of half a knight's fee and by rendering to the said manor of Haddeston at the end of every twenty four weeks throughout the year 40*d.* for 'castel warde.' Thomas Grey in his lifetime enfeoffed William Hoore of the manor of Haddeston to hold in fee simple. The manor of Riston is now held of this William Hoore, as of his manor of Haddeston, by the aforesaid services.

Writ of scire facias to the sheriff of Suffolk, reciting the Suffolk inquisition of 18 January, 39 Edward III, and the inquisition taken on Saturday after St. Hilary, 44 Edward III, concerning the manor and advowson of Stratford, and requiring him to warn John Burgherssh, who is now of age, and John de Mohun of Dunsterre and Joan his wife, to which latter the king has committed the custody of that manor by letters under the seal of the Exchequer, to be before the king in the Chancery in the quindene of Easter next in order to shew cause why the king should not deliver the manor and advowson to William, son of William de Kerdeston, as son and heir of the said William. 15 February, 46 Edward III.

Two endorsements :

(i) by the sheriff that he had warned the said John, John and Joan as directed ; and

(ii) that they did not come into Chancery, so that it was awarded that the said William son of William should be restored to the manor and advowson.

Similar writ to the sheriff of Norfolk concerning the manor of Ryston, directing him to warn John Mohun of Dunsterre and Joan his wife as above; reciting the certificate of the treasurer and barons in reply to the writ of 4 December, 44 Edward III, and the escheator's inquisition taken on Friday after St. Hilary, 44 Edward III. 15 February, 46 Edward III.

Endorsements as above.

Northampton, to enquire as to the lands and heir of the said Warin, and who has been in possession of his lands since his death ; also as to any lands alienated by him, and whether the tenants of any lands so alienated, or Lora late the wife of Thomas Latymer, who held lands &c. of the inheritance of the said Warin in dower, or her tenants, made attornment to the alienees. John Latymer his son, then a minor, was his heir, who afterwards died in Gascony within three months after the taking of King John of France there, and had then been of full age for three years and more. Lora never attorned to the said Walter and Roger, nor did John Jones or Robert Umfray, her free tenants. The above alienation and grant were made 26 years ago, as the jurors understand. Katharine has been in possession of the third part since her husband's death and has received the issues up to now without title in law.

The said Warin 16 years ago demised by sealed deed a messuage and half a virgate of land in Wardon, parcel of the manor, to John Jones and Juliana his wife, and John their son, for their lives, without the king's licence, at a rent of 12s. yearly ; and 13 years ago demised by sealed deed to Agnes Sore, now wife of John Willy, a messuage and 7a. land in the same for her life, without the king's licence, at a rent of 8s. yearly ; and 12 years ago alienated to Emma Geffes, now wife LINCOLN. Inq. taken at Elsham, Thursday after the Nativity of the Virgin, 34 Edward III (defaced and illegible in places).

Glentworth. A messuage, 2 tofts, 5 bovates, and yearly rents of 26s. and 1*lb.* cummin, held of the king in chief by service of being usher in the eyre of the justices at Lincoln, whereof Roger son of Roger de Bello Campo of Filyngham, [aged 38] years and more, is heir by reason that one William de Bello Campo gave the premises to Robert son of William Bauge [of Barton] and Alice, his wife,* and the heirs of their bodies, with remainder to his own heirs; and 2 bovates, held of the heir of Oliver Vendour by fealty and service of a clove at Michaelmas.

Helmeswell. A toft and 2 bovates of land, held of the prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England by service of 3s. yearly.

Glenthams. 6*a.* land and meadow, held of Thomas de Snartfford for 6*d.* yearly or a pair of spurs worth 6*d.*

The aforesaid Roger son of Roger son of William de Bello [Campo is heir to all the above lands &c. as above]. The descent of the right in the premises given here is illegible in places, but seems to be identical with that given in the inquisition taken at Spital (below, p. 137), except that the wife of Robert son of William Bauge is here called Alice, not Agnes. The meaning appears to be that the right reverted to Roger through Elizabeth mother of Hugh son of John de Merflet, and daughter of Alice wife of the aforesaid Robert Bauge, daughter of Alice daughter of the aforesaid William de Bello Campo.

Barton. [Moieties of a messuage and] of a bovat of land, whereof Thomas son of Walter son of Walter de Feriby, aged 53 years and more, is heir, [by reason of a fine] levied in the king's court between William Baugy and Agnes, his wife, querents, and Hugh Busk of Feriby and Idonia, his wife, deforciant, whereby Hugh and Idonia recognized the aforesaid moieties to be the right of William and Agnes, and surrendered them in court as the right and inheritance of Agnes; from whom the right descended to Robert Baugy, son and heir of William and Agnes; and from him to Robert his son and heir; and from him, because he died without heir of himself, to Elizabeth, his sister, whom John de Merflet married; and from her to Hugh, her son and heir by the said John. From him it reverted to the aforesaid Thomas son of Walter son of Walter as kinsman and heir of the aforesaid Agnes, wife of William Baugy, who was sister of the aforesaid Walter son of Walter father of the aforesaid Thomas son of Walter.

Barton. 10s. rent, 3 tofts, and 20*a.* land and meadow, which William Baugy and Agnes, his wife, acquired to them and the heirs of Agnes, whereof the same Thomas son of Walter is heir, the descent being the same as the last.

* See List of Inquisitions ad quod damnum, p. 247.

10*a.* land and meadow, whereof the same Thomas son of Walter is heir by reason that one John de Feryby gave them to the aforesaid William Baugy and Agnes and the heirs of their bodies. The descent is again the same until the death of Hugh now deceased, who died without heir of himself, and then the right reverted to [Walter] son of the said John de Feryby, father of Walter father of the said Thomas, and from him it descended to his son Walter, and from him to his son Thomas aforesaid.

A messuage, 3 tofts, 50*a.* land, 8*a.* meadow and 24*s.* 6*d.* rent, whereof William Wryght of Barton, aged 40 years and more, is heir by reason of a fine levied between Thomas Saffray of Barton and Agnes his wife, sometime wife of William Baugy, querents, and William son of Walter de Feriby, deforciant, whereby the latter surrendered the premises to the said Thomas and Agnes and the heirs of Thomas by Agnes, with remainder to Robert son of William Baugy and the heirs of his body, and reversion to the right heirs of Thomas Saffray. Thomas and Agnes died without issue, whereupon the remainder fell to Robert son of William. From him the descent to Hugh is the same as before, and on Hugh's death without heir of himself the premises reverted to [William] Wryght as kinsman and heir of Thomas Saffray.

A capital messuage, 4 tofts, 1½ bovates of land and 12*a.* meadow, which are the escheat of Richard earl of Arundel and his wife, of whom they are immediately held, by reason that William Baugy had by Alice his first wife a son named John and two daughters Agnes and Alice, but this wife Alice being dead, he married another wife named Agnes, by whom he had a son named Robert Baugy. William Baugy gave the premises to this Robert, from whom they descended to Hugh, son of John de Merflet and Elizabeth his wife, as above. Hugh died without heir of himself [or through Elizabeth his mother], so the premises escheat as stated.

12½*a.* land, whereof [William] son of William de Melton of Barton is heir in remainder, by reason that John de Gascryk gave them to William Baugy and Agnes his wife, and the heirs of their bodies, with remainder to the right heirs of William [Baugy]. The descent is traced as before to Hugh, and on his death without heir of himself the remainder went to John, son of William Baugy by Alice his first wife, from him to Margaret his daughter, married to . . . de Bukton, and from her to Ellis de Bukton, her son and heir, who [died without heir of himself], and from him to his kinswoman Agnes, sister of John Baugy, and from her, who died without heir of herself, to son of William de Melton, kinsman and heir of the aforesaid Agnes sister of Alice daughter (sic) of the aforesaid John of William de Melton the elder, father of the aforesaid William.

A messuage and 50*a.* land late of John de [Merflet], whereof William de Merflet, aged 30 years and more, is heir. William was brother of John and uncle and heir of Hugh.

All the aforesaid lands &c. in Barton are held of Richard earl of Arundel and his wife [late the wife] of John de Bello Monte, of the inheritance of Henry son and heir of the same John de Bello Monte, by fealty and by service of 9s. 10d. yearly and two appearances at the earl's [court] in Barton after Michaelmas and Easter.

Wolrikby by Elsham. A bovate of land, held of Roger Haunsard and Margaret his [wife] as of the right of the said Margaret, by homage and fealty. Hugh died on 28 July, 3[4] Edward III.

Writ, 18 October, 34 Edward III.

[The deceased is here described as Hugh de Merflet, son of John de Merflet and kinsman and heir of Robert Bauge, a minor in the king's wardship.]

(Endorsed by the escheator.) All the lands &c. contained in the inquisition had been delivered to the various heirs before the receipt of this writ by virtue of divers other writs, except a capital messuage &c. in Barton to which John son of John de Barton of Northkelseye is found by this inquisition to be heir. These remain still in the king's hand because by another inquisition it has been found that they were escheats by default of heirs. By another writ, however, he delivered to Katharine late the wife of Hugh de Merflet her dower.

LINCOLN. Inq. taken at Castre, 14 November, 34 Edward III.

The following lands &c. came into the king's hand by the death of John de Merflet and the minority of Hugh, his son and heir, who died a minor in the king's wardship:—

Glenteworth, Helmeswell and Glenthams (as in the first inquisition).

Roger de Bello Campo of Filyngham, aged 38 years and more, is his heir for certain reasons, as appears by an inquisition taken at another time by the same escheator.

Barton. A messuage and a bovate of land, and also 5s. yearly rent, 3 tofts and 20a. land and meadow, whereof Thomas son of Walter son of Walter Feriby, aged 53 years and more, is heir for certain reasons, as appears &c., as above.

10a. land and meadow, whereof the same Thomas is heir, as appears &c., as above.

A messuage, 3 tofts, 50a. land, 8a. meadow and 24s. 6d. rent, whereof William Wryght of Barton, chaplain, aged 40 years and more, is heir.

2½a. land, whereof William son of William de Melton of Barton, aged 30 years and more, is heir for certain reasons, as appears &c., as above.

A messuage and 50*a.* land late of John de Merflet, whereof William de Merflet, aged 30 years and more, is heir for certain reasons, as appears &c., as above.

A capital messuage, 4 tofts, 1½ bovates of land and 12*a.* meadow which remained in the king's hand as an escheat because before this time no heir was known, whereof John son of John de Barton of Northkelseye, aged 30 years and more, is heir.

3*s.* rent, whereof the same John son of John is heir by reason that one Robert Bauge of Barton was seised of the same messuage, tofts, bovates, meadow and rent in demesne as of fee, and from him the right therein descended to Robert son of Robert [Bauge], who died without heir of himself, and from him to Elizabeth, his sister, whom John de Merflet married, and from her to Hugh, son and heir of the said John and Elizabeth, who died without heir of himself, whereupon the right reverted (resortiebatur) to Philip Bauge, brother and heir of William Bauge father of the said Robert, and from him descended to Margaret his daughter, and from her to John de Barton of Northkelseye, her son and heir, and from him to John, his son and heir.

All the premises in Barton are held of Richard earl of Arundel and Eleanor, his wife, as of the inheritance of Henry son of John de Bello Monte, by service of 9*s.* 10*d.* yearly and two appearances at the great court of Barton, after Easter and Michaelmas.

Wolrikby. A bovat of land and meadow, held of Roger Haunsard and Margaret, his wife, as of her right, by homage and fealty. Of this Joan, daughter of Robert Crispyn, aged 20 years and more, married to Adam de Beverlee, and Agnes, her sister, aged 19 years and more, married to Thomas Breton, are his heirs for certain reasons, as appears &c., as above.

Hugh died on 28 July, 34 Edward III.

Writ to the escheator to enquire as to the lands and heir of the said Hugh, and who has been in possession of his lands since his death and received the issues. 25 October, 35 Edward III.

LINCOLN. Inq. taken at Spital on the Street (Hospitale super Stratam), Thursday after St. Andrew, 35 Edward III.

Glentworth. A messuage, 2 tofts, 2 bovates and 50*a.* land, held as above (first inquisition).

Helmeswell. 2 bovates of land, held as above (first inquisition).

Glentham. 6*a.* land and meadow, held as above (first inquisition).

He died on 28 July, 34 Edward III. Roger son of Roger son of William de Bello Campo of Filyngham, aged 38 years and more, is next heir of the premises by reason that one William de Bello Campo, his grandfather, gave them to one Robert son of William Bauge of Barton and Agnes, his wife, and the heirs of their bodies, with reversion to the donor and his heirs. From Robert and Agnes the right descended to Robert their son, and from him, who died without heir of himself, to Elizabeth his sister, whom John de Merflet married, and from her to Hugh, son and heir of John and Elizabeth, in right of his mother. The said Hugh died in seisin thereof, a minor in the king's wardship, without heir; and on his death without heir of himself the right reverted to the aforesaid Roger [son of Roger] son of William de Bello Campo as kinsman and heir of the said William by reason of the aforesaid gift. [The king by his escheator] Walter de Kelby has been in possession of the premises since the death of the said Hugh.

LINCOLN. Inq. taken and extent made at Epworth in the Isle of Axholm, Friday after SS. Simon and Jude, 35 Edward III.

430. WILLIAM DE STAPILTON.

Writ, 8 May, 36 Edward III.

CUMBERLAND. Inq. taken at Penreth, Tuesday after the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 36 Edward III.

Edenhale. King Henry, the king's progenitor, gave the manor of Edenhale to Peter de Brus and his heirs in fee, to hold of the king by service of a moiety of a knight's fee for all service. Afterwards by hereditary descent Robert de Brus held it of king Henry, the king's great-grandfather. Afterwards Adam Turpe acquired it in fee with the king's licence from Robert Brus, and Robert de Turpe, Adam's son and heir, held it of the king and his heirs by the above service. After his death Juliana and Joan were his daughters and heirs, and Juliana was married to William de Stapleton, now deceased, and died before him, so that the said William at the time of his death held a moiety of the manor by the courtesy of England, of the inheritance of his late wife, of the king in chief by homage and service of a fourth part of a knight's fee for all service. Although the ancestors of Juliana held the moiety by the above service, the foresters in the king's forest of Ingelwod take yearly from it for their puture 34*s.* 8*d.* and 3*qrs.* 6*bus.* of oats rendered in daily and monthly instalments (quolibet die et mense anni secundum porcionem redditus illius), and the king's bailiffs take for their puture 4*s.* 4*d.* rendered yearly, and they claim these putures as fixed services which pertained to them to be taken from the said half manor when the ancestors of Juliana were enfeoffed thereof. (The extent of the moiety is given.)

Hobardby. 2½*a.* land, held of the king in chief by fealty and by service of rendering 2*s.* yearly at the Exchequer of Carlisle by the hands of the sheriff and doing suit of court once (?) a year.

He held no other lands &c. in the county.

He died on 6 May last. William de Stapilton his son, aged 26 years and more, is his heir.

The jury also say that a messuage and 12*a.* land, which were parcel of the moiety of the manor of Edenhale, are in the king's hand and in the custody of the escheator because Adam de Turpe, who held them of the king in chief, gave them in fee to Agnes his daughter without the king's licence. After the death of Agnes they ought to remain to the aforesaid William son and heir of Juliana, as the jurors understand.

Endorsed : Enrolled in Trinity term, 37 Edward III.

(1) No mention of the manor was found in the Book of Fees or Domesday Book ; but on examination of other rolls and memoranda of the Exchequer it was found in the particulars of the account of Gilbert Culwen, Richard de Berewis and Adam Burton, collectors in Cumberland of the aid granted in 20 Edward III for knighting the king's eldest son, that Roland de Vallibus holds Torcrossok for a fifth part of a knight's fee of Margaret de Dacre, who holds the barony of Gillesland of the king in chief for two knights' fees. There is not at present in the Exchequer any other account touching the manor of Torcrossok.

KENT. Proof of age made at Canterbury, Thursday before St. Gregory, 37 Edward III.

John Brewere, aged 50 years, says that the said Joan was born at Tilmanston, co. Kent, and baptized in the church of St. Andrew there, and was 17 years of age on the morrow of the Circumcision last, and that John de Tidyingdene, Joan Goldsmyth and Sarah Westclevé lifted her from the sacred font. This the witness knows because on Monday after St. Hilary, 19 Edward III, he married Joan his wife, after the aforesaid Joan was born, and that was 17 years ago on Monday after St. Hilary last.

Thomas Pileholte, aged 60 years, agrees and says that Henry, his father, gave him 20*a.* land in Tilmanston by a charter the date of which was Christmas day, 19 Edward III, before the birth of the said Joan, and that was 17 years ago last Christmas day.

John Salmon, aged 40 years, agrees and says that he had a son John born at Tilmanston on the eve of St. Thomas the Apostle, 19 Edward III, before the birth of the said Joan, and on the morrow (sic) of St. Thomas the Apostle last he was 17 years old.

William Martyn, aged 60 years, agrees and says that on the Epiphany following the birth his wife died (migravit a seculo), and after her death he caused it to be noted in a great psalter in the same church sub data Incarnacionis Domini.

Thomas Coltherde, aged 40 years, and Warin Neddler, also aged 40 years, agree and say that at the time there was a great quarrel between Warin Neddler and John atte Dane, and on the same day, the morrow of the Circumcision, peace was made again between them and confirmed by a writing, by the date of which they well remember the truth of the above age.

John Poteroun, aged 50 years, and John atte Wode, also aged 50 years, agree and say that on the first Sunday in Lent in the same year in which peace was made between the aforesaid Warin and John they started on a journey to the Holy Land.

Thomas Pricke, aged 40 years, Roger Hugham, also aged 40 years, John Pere and Thomas Brewere, aged 50 years, agree and say that at the same time they were cited to be before the king's justices of the Bench at Westminster in the octave of St. Hilary following, to wit, 19 Edward III, for an assize of mort d'ancestor touching William Aleyn and Robert Tuk.

The escheator warned Henry Wardedeu, who made no objection.

Ingelwod forest. Purprestures called 'Kirkethwayt' and 'Lynethwayt,' held as above.

She died on Saturday before St. Gregory, 36 Edward III.

After her death the escheator took the premises into the king's hand, until John de Moriceby, husband of the same Ellen, recovered them by writ by the courtesy of England, and so the said John has received all the issues since her death.

She held no other lands &c. of the king in chief in the county or elsewhere.

Jonby. The manor, held by virtue of a feoffment made to Nicholas de Vespount and herself and the heirs male of their bodies. The manor is held of the heirs of Gregory Burdoun,† to wit, of Sir Thomas son of Thomas Ughtred and his heirs,† by service of one knight's fee.

The escheator took the manor into the king's hand after her death, by what title the jurors know not, and received the issues until Thomas Bowet of co. Cumberland had entry by a writ to the escheator, since which time the said Thomas has been in possession and received the issues.

Robert son of the aforesaid Nicholas and Ellen, aged 12 years and more, is her heir.

Writ of plenius certiorari with regard to the manor of Jonby, directing the escheator to ascertain whether the manor is held of Thomas son of Thomas Ughtred or of another, and by what service and how, and who has been in possession since the death of Ellen &c.; the above inquisition having been examined before the council and considered insufficient. 10 November, 39 Edward III.

* The words the heir . . . wardship are written over an erasure.

† The words to wit . . . heirs are interlineated.

Ellen died on Saturday after St. Gregory, 36 Edward III, as the jurors understand. Robert son of Nicholas de Vespoint and Ellen, aged 13 years and more, is her heir.

The escheator took the manor into the king's hand after her death, and is charged with the issues from the time of her death until Thomas Bowet had entry by the king's writ, and since then the said Thomas has been in possession, by what right the jurors know not.

CUMBERLAND. *Inq. taken before William de Fyncheden and Roger de Fulthorp, commissioners to enquire into divers matters. Carlisle, Friday after St. Peter's Chains, 41 Edward III.

Henry de Tesedale, sub-escheator of William de Nessefeld, took an inquisition of diem clausit extremum on the death of Ellen late the wife of Nicholas de Vespoint about the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 36 Edward III; in which it was fully set out that she died seised &c. of the manor of Joneby, which after her death descended to Robert as her son and heir, then and still a minor, that the manor was held of the heir of Gregory Burdon by knight's service, and that the heir of Gregory Burdon held it of Ralph, son and heir of the baron of Greystok, then and still a minor in the king's wardship. This inquisition was afterwards altered, and it was returned into Chancery that the said manor was held of the heir of the baron of Graystok immediately, to the grave loss &c. of the said heir of Gregory Burdon and to the scandal of the jurors.

Henry de Tesedale also extorted under colour of his office about Whitsuntide, 35 Edward III, from Robert de Levynghton, John Oureeme (?), John son of William, Thomas son of William, Richard Ditson, Robert Donne, John Ditson, and John son of Robert, tenants of the bishop of Carlisle of the barony of Lynstok, 57s. 4d.; and from Joan late the wife of Thomas de Skelton and Richard son of the same Thomas 4l. 5s.; which sums he still keeps in his hands.

Endorsed. Let a copy of this be sent in the King's Bench and to the Exchequer that execution may be done.

Writ to the sheriff, quoting the above two inquisitions whereby it was found that the manor of Joneby was held (1) of the heir of William de Greystok and (2) of Thomas son of Thomas Ughtred, and directing him to warn Thomas Bowet, to whom the king has committed the custody of the lands &c. late of the said Ellen, to be before the king in the Chancery in the quindene of Hilary next to shew cause why the king's hand should not be removed from the manor, as Thomas son of Thomas petitions. 20 October, 41 Edward III.

Writ to the sheriff, quoting the above inquisition whereby it was found that the manor of Joneby was held of the heirs of Gregory de Burdon by knight's service, to wit, of Thomas son of Thomas Ughtred, and another inquisition taken in co. York whereby it was found that Gregory de Burdon held in fee a fourth part of the manor of Clifford,

* This inquisition appears to have been taken under a general commission to enquire as to misdeeds by Henry de Tesedale while sub-escheator.

and that John son of Robert de Kirketon the son of Ellen Gregory's sister, of full age, was his heir; and directing the sheriff to warn Thomas son of Thomas to be before the king in the Chancery in the quindene of Easter next to shew cause why the manor of Joneby should not be delivered to this John son of Robert, who claims that the manor is held of him as kinsman and true heir of Gregory Burdon, and that he ought to have the custody thereof during the minority of the heir of Ellen wife of Nicholas de Vespoint. 15 February, 42 Edward III.

Endorsed. The sheriff warned him by William Childe, Adam del Langhone, Richard Knaresdaleman and Richard Plummere.

Pleas before the king in Chancery at Westminster on the morrow of the Ascension, 40 Edward III.

YORK. The findings of the contradictory inquisitions in co. Cumberland are quoted.

Thomas Bowet, by Thomas de Thellewall, clerk, his attorney, says for himself and the king that the manor is held of the heir of William de Greystok, as in the first inquisition, and demands that enquiry be made of the country; and Thomas son of Thomas Ughtred says that the manor is held of him, and not of the heirs of William de Graystok. Therefore a day is given them in the quindene of Trinity next, before the king.

[Memorandum of proceedings, undated.]

NORTHUMBERLAND. The findings of the contradictory inquisitions and of the inquisition in co. York are quoted. It is also stated that in 42 Edward III, during the plea in Chancery by writ of scire facias between John son of Robert de Kirketon and Thomas son of Thomas de Ughtred as to which of them was the heir of Gregory Burdon, to whom the wardship of the manor of Jonby ought to belong, Thomas son of Thomas, appearing in person, alleged that one Alexander Burdon had two sons, Gregory and Roger, the manor being held of Gregory by knight's service, and that Gregory died without heir of his body so that the jus domini descended to Roger as his brother and heir, and from him to Thomas as his son and heir, and from him to Brian as his son and heir, and from him to Margaret as his daughter and heir, and from her to the present Thomas son of Thomas as her son and heir.

John son of Robert de Kirketon, also appearing in person, denied that Gregory brother of Ellen, of whom the manor is supposed to be held, had a brother Roger.

Thomas said that Gregory had a brother Roger, and thereon desired to be put on the country. John son of Robert likewise. So the case was sent before the king.

Afterwards it was found by the inquisition on which both parties put themselves before the king that Gregory had no brother Roger.

And, because the custody of the manor of Joneby is in the king's hands, so that John son of Robert cannot have execution on the said inquisition until it has been settled between the king and him to which of them the same ought by right to belong, a day was given him before the king in Chancery on the morrow of St. Martin to hear judgment &c., as by the record and process before the king in Chancery fully appears. On that day John son of Robert appeared in the Chancery at Westminster by his attorney, William Wyghtman, and maintained that the manor was held of him as kinsman and heir of Gregory Burdon, and that he held it of the heir of William de Graystok, and claimed the custody during minority. Michael Skillyng, following for the king, maintained that the manor was held of the heir of William de Graystok &c., as in the first inquisition. A day was given in the quindene of Martinmas next following before the king, wherever he should be in England.

William late abbot of St. Augustine's, Canterbury, and Thomas Daldon, knight, together with Juliana countess of Huntingdon, lifted him from the sacred font. This he knows because on the eve of St. Augustine the Doctor, 17 Edward III, he acquired some tenements at Westgate, Canterbury, from Richard Lovel, vicar of the church of Westgate, by his charter of that date.

John Ropere, aged 40 years, agrees and says that he had a son, by name John, who died on the morrow of St. Augustine, 17 Edward III, 21 years ago on the morrow of St. Augustine last, his death being enrolled in a certain psalter of the same John the father.

This they know because Walter de Insula, clerk, now chaplain, caused the day and year of the birth to be noted in the kalendar of a white portas (portiforii) in the said church, which they have often seen.

Moreover they say that 2 messuages and 8 bovates of land in Thoreswaye, late of Roger de Insula father of John, were taken into the king's hand immediately after the said Roger's death by reason of the minority of John his son and heir. Roger held them of the heir of Henry de Bello Monte, a minor in the king's wardship, and for that reason they have been since and still are in the king's hand.

Thomas Cheyne, the escheator, caused warning to be given to John Gornay, knight, and Elizabeth his wife, the queen's farmers of the lands &c. late of John de Carru in his bailiwick, and they did not wish to be present or send anyone in their place.
